

PRESIDENT ASKS REMOVAL OF TAX INJUSTICES

EXPOSURE KILLS WEST VIRGINIA KIDNAP VICTIM

Dr. James I. Seder Succumbs Today Of Pneumonia

THREE ARE HELD BY AUTHORITIES

Prosecution Indicates It Will Ask For Death Penalty

(By Associated Press)

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old kidnap victim held 10 days in an abandoned coal mine in what federal agents declared was a futile $50,000 extortion plot, died early today of pneumonia.

Dr. A. K. Kessler, who had attended the former state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said "death was undoubtedly caused by exposure" during the 10 days his aged patient had been held captive.

Murder Charges Seen

Prosecutor E. E. Winters, Jr., announced immediately he would confer later today with Judge H. Clay Warth on the impaneling of a special grand jury and that he would ask murder indictments against three suspects arrested by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Winters said he would ask the death penalty.

Dr. Seder, once a missionary to Japan, sank rapidly yesterday and last night was placed under an oxygen tent.

Dr. I. I. Hirschman, another attending physician, said the churchman had "a slight paralysis of the left side which might have been the result of a blow on the head. His nose is fractured."

Lieutenant of Detectives Leslie J. Swann disclosed that 46-year-old Emmet A. Booth, one of the suspects, had been under suspicion from the day Dr. Seder disappeared.

This Swann explained, was because it was learned that Dr. Seder and Booth had had difficulties about a check Dr. Seder endorsed for Booth. The detective said the check had been returned.

Rented From Victim

Booth had rented an apartment from the aged kidnap victim, who had told officers before his death that Booth had enticed him into an automobile Nov. 1 on the pretense of providing identification for a check. Two other men were in the auto.

Although Booth was questioned twice, he was released both times, but kept under constant surveillance. The other suspects, John Travis, 24, and Orville Adkins, 24, were watched but not questioned, Swann said.

Federal agents who brought the charges of attempted extortion were unable to explain how Dr. Seder was held in the mine, but expressed the belief he had been unguarded. Dr. Henry D. Hatfield said the victim's feet might have been bound, since they were swollen and bruised. Investigators did not disclose how the former missionary left the mine. No ransom was paid, they said.

The three prisoners are held under $50,000 bond in Charleston on the federal charges, but Prosecutor Winters previously asserted he would demand the death penalty for the three "whether Dr. Seder lives or dies."

They have not been arraigned.

PANTHER COACH TO VISIT SALEM

Famed Grid Mentor Will Speak At Farmers' Institute

Coach John B. (Jock) Sutherland, Pitt university football mentor, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual Salem Farmers' Institute, which will be held Jan. 19, and 20 in the Memorial building.

Announcement of the selection of Coach Sutherland as a speaker was made today by Price Cope, program chairman for the institute.

The Pittsburgh man, prominent in college and university athletic circles, will speak Jan. 19, the opening day of the farm meeting.

The officers of the Farmers' Institute will meet Thursday night in the Memorial building to select, from a list of five plays, one to be presented to the institute audience in January. Committees to arrange for the affair may be named.

The institute, one of the largest in Ohio, is sponsored each year by five neighboring granges, in cooperation with the Salem Business Bureau. The granges are Perry, Mt. Nebo, Goshen, Willow Grove and Salem.

NICK HEARING UNDER WAY AT LISBON TODAY

Jury Visits Former Home Of Lisbon Murder Defendant

FIRST WITNESSES GIVE TESTIMONY

Slaying Was Climax Of "Triangle" Case Of Eight Years Ago

LISBON, Nov. 15.—The first degree murder trial of George Nick, former Lisbon junk dealer, opened here this morning with the jury visiting several places near the scene of the shooting.

Nick is charged with killing Chris Bazaras, of Lisbon, Dec. 10, 1929.

Visit Nick's Former Home

After visiting Nick's former home at the corner of S. Beaver and W. Washington sts., the jury went to the former Camps grocery where Bazaras ran after being fatally wounded by bullets from Nick's gun.

The jury also saw where George Harroff of Salem, then a deputy sheriff cut a hole in the building of the Natural Gas Co., of West Virginia in order to retrieve one of the bullets which missed its mark.

Returning to the court room, the jury heard the testimony of Louis Prasco and Mildred Resder, both of Lisbon, who were on the street at the time Nick is alleged to have shot Bazaras.

Prasco, 19 years old, said he heard the shots but did not see Nick.

The same jury which was seated Oct. 25 when the trial was postponed for three weeks pending the outcome of a sanity observation, is hearing the case. Another jury Friday declared him sane following an all-day hearing before Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones.

Call 18 Witnesses

The trial is expected to consume a large portion of the week. Eighteen witnesses have been subpoenaed, including a resident of Florida. The majority of the witnesses are Lisbon residents or were residing here at the time of the slaying.

Nick assertedly shot Bazaras eight years ago believing the victim was paying attention to his wife. Shortly after his arrest he was declared insane and ordered committed to the Lima State hospital. A year after his commitment he escaped and was later recaptured in Detroit where he was living with his family.

Last June Nick was ordered released from the institution by the district court of appeals and returned to Lisbon for trial. Originally scheduled for Sept. 7 the trial was postponed to Oct. 25 and then reset for today, contingent on the outcome of the sanity hearing.

Nick testified Friday that Bazaras had reached for his hip pocket during the fatal altercation. Returning home from a junk buying trip, Nick stated Bazaras was waiting in the yard.

"We grappled together for a few moments," Nick testified. "Then he reached for his hip pocket and I let him have it."

Patrolmen Report Two Minor Mishaps

Only two minor traffic accidents were recorded in the district over the weekend by local state highway patrolmen.

Ronald Roby, Youngstown, suffered a cut on his head when he swerved his automobile into a ditch and then into a tree on Route 224, a quarter of a mile west of Canfield, at 6 p. m. Saturday in an attempt to avoid hitting another car. The other machine, operated by Wilbur Schafer, Canfield, had backed out onto the highway.

Automobiles driven by Arthur Salfill of R. D. 2, Salem, and William Campbell near Westville figured in a collision near Canfield at 1 a. m. Sunday when Salfill attempted to pass Campbell. The accident occurred on the Westville-North Georgetown road, a quarter of a mile south of Westville.

Bad Weather Halts Aerial Honeymoon

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 15.—Bad weather prevented Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Tolerton from an aerial honeymoon planned after their marriage here yesterday.

JAPANESE OPEN NANKING DRIVE

Campaign Is Launched As Bombs Drop On Soochow

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Nov. 15.—Japanese forces endangered China's whole "Hindenburg line" defenses today in a drive on Soochow.

The offensive westward from Shanghai, Japanese officers said, was the opening of a campaign against Nanking, China's capital, 125 to 150 miles west of the "Hindenburg line."

Advices from Nanking said Soochow was desolated by more than 700 Japanese bombs dropped on it within 30 hours.

The central government was known to be resolved to defend Nanking. Knowledge of that determination and of Soochow's fate hastened a heavy civilian exodus from Nanking by river, canal and road.

Another Chinese capital, meanwhile, appeared in imminent danger in north China. Swift Japanese columns were reported within 15 miles of Tsinan, capital of wealthy Shantung province. Tsinan is the only provincial capital of north China still uncaptured by the Japanese.

Felton To Speak At Presbyterian Father-Son Dinner

Charles Felton of Lisbon, scout executive for Columbiana county will be the speaker at the annual Father and Son banquet of the Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

NEAR STAMPEDE IS SEEN IN TAX REVISION PLAN

Increases Confusion Over Large Legislative Program

F. D. R. PROGRAM MAY BE DELAY

Conflicts Over This, Too, Adds To Session's Uncertainty

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A near stampede to revise taxes on business developed today at the start of the special session of congress, increasing the almost unparalleled confusion over the legislative program.

Even before President Roosevelt's opening message was received at perfunctory noon sessions of the two houses, administration leaders encountered a vigorous campaign to sidetrack the chief executive's program.

Join in Plea for Relief

Many of the President's strongest supporters in congress joined with his critics in asking for modification of the capital gains and corporate undistributed profits taxes and for other steps designed to stimulate business.

Conflicts, even within administration ranks, on the President's legislative proposals added to the uncertainty over what the session would accomplish. The chief executive outlined five major objectives for the session—wage-hour standards, crop control, government reorganization, regional planning and anti-trust legislation. None was ready in either house except government reorganization.

Some observers contended the entire course of the President's second term depended on the developments in the two almost continuous sessions of congress before the 1938 off-year elections.

The two sessions also will have an important bearing on the political future, they said. The party line-up of the future may depend on whether Democrats close the breach which was created within their ranks last session.

Despite the complexities of the situation, Speaker Bankhead forecast the special session would "carry through substantially the program" outlined by the President. He said the "time element" was the chief uncertainty.

Sends His Message

President Roosevelt's decision to send his message instead of delivering it in person robbed the opening day of much of its customary drama. Most members waited until the last minute to return to the capitol.

Their discussions in corridors and cloakrooms were less about the

Only One Person Injured When Car Rams Into House

(By Associated Press)

Rain and snow which clustered in gusts across Ohio cut the volume of traffic and resulted today in a comparatively light weekend traffic toll of eight deaths in the state.

An auto ploughed through three rooms of a house at Hubbard, near Youngstown, but the only injury was a broken rib suffered by James Stafford, one of a family of six persons sleeping in the home.

The auto left the road on a turn. It tore off the end of a sofa where Ray Stafford was sleeping and came to a stop against a bed where the other were asleep.

The driver of the car, and three companions escaped injury. The driver said his car left the road on a turn, plunged between a tree and telephone pole and then crashed into the house.

Arrest Youth Who Stole Pastor's Car

Robert Chevalier, 18, a ward of the juvenile court at Lisbon, was turned back to juvenile authorities shortly after he stole an automobile here Sunday morning.

The machine he stole was owned by Rev. Harlan Mosher, Beloit minister, who was preaching at services at the First Friends church. The car was parked near the church.

The youth was picked up by Chief Ralph Stoffer and Patrolman James Hassey after a resident of Sharp ave. saw the youth park the vehicle. The officers, who were notified by the Sharp ave. resident, said Chevalier intended to get the car again Sunday evening.

CENSUS CARDS GO OUT TUESDAY

Every Unemployed And Partly Unemployed Person Asked To Register

Salem mail carriers will distribute unemployment census cards to every home in Salem Tuesday as the lot of the Salem postoffice. Postmaster A. E. Beardmore said today that no extra clerical help will be required here, but that regular substitutes will be used to take care of the extra work.

Cards will arrive Tuesday morning and be distributed during the day. Jobless and partly jobless persons will then fill them out and put them in the mailbox or hand to carriers before the end of the week.

No tabulation will be made here. The cards will be sent to Washington for that purpose and results of the count will be announced there.

Boyd Heads Group To Probe "Chasing"

LISBON, Nov. 15.—Att'y Charles Boyd of East Liverpool was today named chairman of the Columbiana County Bar association's committee to investigate "ambulance chasing" in the county.

Att'y W. O. Wallace, Columbiana, was elected vice chairman, and Att'y Lynn Riddle, Lisbon, secretary.

The officers closed their session here this morning, determined to meet again at the call of the chairman.

FOUR-POINT PLAN GIVEN TO CONGRESS

While Not Asking Action At Special Session, Roosevelt Notes Steps Taken To Encourage Business

EXPECTS DEFINITE BUDGET BALANCE

Seeks Steps Toward Crop Control, Labor Wages And Hours, Reorganization And Natural Resources

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt recommended removal of tax injustices "to encourage productive enterprise" today in submitting a four-point legislative program to congress.

In a message opening the special session which was read to the senate and house by clerks, the President asked "early action" on legislation on farm crop control, labor wages and hours, reorganization of the executive branch and planning of natural resources.

But of at least equal importance to members were these remarks on taxes:

"Unjust provisions should be removed provided such removal does not create new injustices. x x x nor can we at this time accept a revision of our tax laws which involves a reduction in the aggregate revenues or an increase in the aggregate tax burdens of those least able to bear them."

Hits Monopolistic Practices

"We should give special consideration to lightening inequitable burdens of the enterprise of the small business men of the nation x x x in this way we may also find assistance in our search for a more effective method of checking the growing concentration of economic control and the resultant monopolistic practices which persist today in spite of anti-trust statutes. A further search for additional methods to meet this threat to free competitive enterprise is called for at this time."

Mr. Roosevelt did not ask action on tax revision at the special session, a course advocated by many members of his party. He noted that the question was receiving study by the treasury and congressional committees.

Again he reiterated that he expected the next budget "can be brought within a definite balance" and directed special attention to business conditions.

"Since your adjournment in August there has been a marked recession in industrial production and industrial purchases, following a fairly steady advance for more than four years," he said.

Not Serious Yet

"The present decline has not reached serious proportions. But it has the effect of decreasing the national income—and that is a matter of definite concern."

Discussions with businessmen, large and small, and leaders of agriculture and labor, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, had made clear to him that "we have wisdom enough in the country today not only to check the present recession but to lay the ground work for a permanent recovery."

"If the people are as willing as the government to use the economic knowledge gained in recent years," he said, "this recession need go no further."

"With the exercise of ordinary prudence, there is no reason why we should suffer any prolonged recession, let alone any general economic paralysis."

"Despite some maladjustments, which can be corrected, underlying conditions are unfavorable."

He said the fundamental situation was not to be compared with 1929 and said the obvious immediate task was increased use of private capital to create employment.

"A little later," the President said, "I will address you further in regard to proposals to encourage private capital to enter the field of new housing on a large scale x x x"

Discusses Program

On the four points of his immediate program he listed:

1. "An all weather" surplus crop control plan aimed at "abundance without waste" and backed

TO SAVE DEMOCRACY

Americans now return to the job of saving democracy. That, whatever experts say, is the deeper significance of the early convening of congress this week.

The actual program, of course, says nothing about saving democracy. It includes items like a general farm bill, an anti-lynching law, tax revision, wage and hour legislation etc.

But behind the program is this fact: that the new deal and its opposition are meeting head-on in a battle of methods to save a democratic form of government in the United States, each in its own way. President Roosevelt and his bloc say democracy cannot be saved unless they are permitted to exercise what they call the mandate of the 1936 election to save it—their way, by quick reforms to usher in a new era of authoritarianism without delay.

The opposition replies that the Roosevelt administration's way of saving democracy, as revealed fully for the first time in the rush to destroy the independence of the judiciary, stands discredited and that democracy will be saved by resisting, not complying with, the administrative program.

That, then, is to be the atmosphere of the congressional session which begins this week and will end late in December, to be resumed again in January and continued till the death of the 75th congress. It will be a struggle of opposing forces.

Gone is the rubber stamp shortcut from executive order to legislative approval by which representative democracy was suspended during the emergency. Gone is the legend that the new deal has brought the millennium. Gone is the invincibility of the Democratic majority in congress. Gone is the blind faith in the wisdom of the new deal bloc to save democracy if given a free rein.

Restored, at last, is belief in the slower, safer method of investigation and debate, which is the foundation of the democratic method.

ABILITY TO PAY

Two facts stand out in discussion of social security financing—use of benefit payments for current expenses and accumulation of government bonds in the social security accounts.

First is the social security law, which says payments collected must be handled exactly as they are being handled. It is not administration of the law which is being discussed, but a provision of the law. That provision was included under protest when the law was passed in 1935. It was debatable then, but wasn't debated. Consequently, it is being debated now. This is part of the penalty of hasty legislating.

Second is the attitude which prompts skepticism. Only part of the questioning concerns the financial technique of building a reserve account. The rest concerns ability of the United States government to conduct its financial affairs that it will be able to pay an obligation falling due in the remote future.

This is a grave situation. It furnishes one more powerful reason for restoring as quickly as possible understandable, orthodox methods of financing which will rehabilitate popular confidence in the government's continued fiscal stability.

ATLEE POMERENE

Hope of a higher standard of public service in this country, where public servants so rarely seem to try to add to the prestige of their essential occupation, is built on characters like that of Atlee Pomerene.

His death will bring a sense of acute loss to thousands of Americans who had reason to respect him throughout a long and honorable career in politics. He possessed the qualities of statesmanship—possessed them and exercised them.

He was exceptionally able, and that made it easier for him to have confidence in his own judgment than it is for a public servant beset by doubt of his own ability. Mr. Pomerene's political qualifications were not related to his partisanship, but to his character and intelligence.

This state, where he held the office of senator, is proud to have helped develop a man so distinguished in the service of his country.

According to a news item, the Republican National Committee has a deficit—but it didn't sell old campaign books at $250 each to liquidate.

The number of horses and colts in the United States have dropped nearly 5,000,000 since 1925. And the number of pedestrians is being reduced, it might be observed, also.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, November 16

According to the lunar and mutual aspects of major planets, this may be a day of conflicting conditions. While business aspects appear good, favoring dealings with important interests, yet there are other factors of opposition with hostility, enmity and jealousy to be met. However, an elderly person may prove helpful and there may be happy social activities.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of splendid opportunity in business, with the co-operation of important persons, but it would be well to be ready to cope with enmity, jealousy and some tempestuous experience. In purely personal matters there may be happy adventures.

A child born on this day may be enterprising and ambitious but rather hostile and antagonistic in business relations, although pleasant enough in its private life.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal: Strange how the tobacco habit quickly deserted a neighbor. A smoker for 30 years, his after-breakfast cigaret a morning six weeks ago had no taste. He hasn't been able to smoke since. And has gained 16 pounds.

My father chewed, smoked and polished off a quart of whiskey a day until 39. Then stopped all three habits over night, but was so bedeviled he had to take to his bed, where he remained mightily ill for three weeks. Ever after he was intolerant of tobacco and whiskey users.

M. tells of a fine remedy for the "out to lunch" delay that annoys so many customers in stores. One of New York's large fur stores on the avenue closes—and has for years—tight from twelve until one while every employee has luncheon simultaneously.

I find myself now and again calling the evening meal supper instead of the New York designation, dinner. Our dinner back yonder was at noon, when the factory whistle blew, and supper was around 6 in the evening. To my notion, however, Parisians have the ideal dining hour—nine o'clock.

Because I never owned a garden, I suppose, I do not know the names of many flowers. And botanical patter bores me. To be frank, I care little for the cloying aroma of posies. Indeed, whiffs from some flutter a faint nausea. A field of clover is stimulating and some roses and violets are exquisite. But there my enthusiasm ends. Nothing is more ungracefully gawky to me than a lily.

M. remarked today that I never referred in speech to my column as a column but as "the letter." A throwback to the beginning, when my stationery proclaimed "O. O. McIntyre's New York Letter." I had intended a sort of letter to the folk back home and, generally speaking, I write in that vein today. In those early nickeling-along days of syndication my objective was to cast off the shackles of the routine newspaper job. Especially getting up at daylight. And that ghastly shoving about I had to endure every morning in the packed subway. Only a sufferer from the terrors of crowd phobia can realize what that means.

I have been in but three editorial rooms since I fared forth to syndicate—in St. Louis, New Orleans and Cincinnati. A newshoop to me, however, is the most glamorous of places. The stage and screen often try to capture its undercurrent of tenseness, but never succeed. Just as no reporter ever tops the thrill of achieving an 8 column banner line on first assignment, plus a word of praise from the city editor.

Harry Silvey and I had our fortunes told in tea leaves at one of the snack bars the other afternoon. By a sly-eyed senorita in a gipsy costume who confessed under a kidding cross-examination that she came from New Dorp, S. I. She predicted great careers for each, but warned Silvey against a "Titan charmer" whom he would soon meet in an European capital. The trick in fortune telling is so obvious. They have a list of stock readings, a number of the assertions fitting any man or woman. The rest is just absurd romancing.

My doubting Thomas attitude toward fortune telling does not impair my faith in what, despite the redundancy, I like to call "mental telepathy." Thought transference is to me as actual as electricity. A dozen times in my life I have had sudden twinges that told me this and that, and they always proved correct. I have had the premonitions of three great catastrophes. This is not unusual. Many have had the same experience.

This sounds fishy, and I do not repeat it often. But it fits in with the telepathic topic. On way to an opening night at the theatre some years ago, I suddenly blurted out loud the name "Tommy Millard." He is a veteran newspaper correspondent and friend in Shanghai. My wife asked me how I happened to think of him. Although I had not seen him or thought of him for some time, I replied that I would be seeing or hearing from him soon. We were in a traffic jam and arrived late for the play. When the lights came on for the intermission, I stood up to let a near-by seat-holder pass. He was Tommy Millard, arriving that day and on a secret mission—so secret no one knew of his coming.

EYE CHECK-UP

UNDOUBTEDLY MANY of you have recently read of the tremendous growth of the "Seeing Eye Organization." A result of the campaign waged by this organization, many blind persons throughout the world have been enabled to continue with their activities. They are enabled to get about in their communities.

To help the blind to see is a noble undertaking. We must help, but no one of us should overlook the importance of his own "seeing eyes."

It is a pity that so many face their eyes for granted. Too little do they realize that neglect of what may appear to be a trivial disorder may lead to permanent blindness. Need For Care

There are 114,000 blind persons in one country alone, the United States. It is believed that more than half of these could have been saved from darkness by modern medical science if steps had been taken in time.

The eye should be guarded against infection, accident and disease. No matter how trivial the injury, it is best to take precautions against complications.

Let me warn all of my readers of the great need to care for the eyes, and, particularly, of the necessity of attending to any defect of the eyes during infancy and early childhood. Many cases of so-called "near-sightedness," "far-sightedness" and "astigmatism" can be corrected by glasses. But these glasses should be prescribed at an early age and worn as directed.

In certain diseases care must be taken to prevent complications involving the eyes, and which, if neglected, may result in permanent impairment of vision and even blindness. Kidney disorders, diabetes, syphilis, if untreated, may lead eventually to serious effects upon the sight. It must be seen how essential expert medical care really is in these cases.

Consult Doctor

Many persons suffer from symptoms which they think are due to eye strain. As a matter of fact, they may be signs of some constitutional disorder which, if neglected, will lead to poor vision.

If you are a victim of severe and recurring headaches, chronic loss of sleep, attacks of dizziness or any disturbance of vision, it is best that you consult with your doctor. Above all, avoid the use of self-prescribed patent medicines, such as eye washes, ointments, salves and other alleged remedies. Never use any eye medicine unless it is prescribed by your doctor or eye specialist.

The eyesight of every school child should be regularly tested. I am glad to say that in certain states the law requires that this be done. It would be beneficial indeed if a similar law compelled adults to have their eyes examined at periodic intervals.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

Garfield Juveniles Name New Officers

DAMASCUS, Nov. 15.—Officers were elected at a regular meeting of Garfield Juvenile grange recently.

The Juvenile grange joined the Red Cross and decided to bring donations for Thanksgiving baskets for the needy.

The officers are: Master, Ruth Ellen Shoor; overseer, William Welch; lecturer, Ellen June McDonald; steward, Vernon Kampfer; assistant steward, Bobby Morton; chaplain, Edna Mather; treasurer, Jerry Weizenbecker; secretary, Eva Jean Stanley; gatekeeper, Donald Martig.

Ceres, Ruth Martig; Pomona, Ruth Welch; Flora, Delora Weizenbecker; lady assistant steward, Charlene Morton.

COLUMBIANA

Plans are being made for Junior High Thanksgiving programs. Program chairmen in the three Junior High rooms are Jean Myers, La-Norma Zimmerman and Anna Mary Shontz.

The Girl Reserves of Columbian High school will hold an "International Jamboree" Nov. 23 in the school gym. Each girl is to dress in costumes representing various countries.

Practices are being held weekly by an informal school band directed by Zella Bailey. The band, composed of about 15 members, plans to play between quarters at basketball games the coming season.

Members of the High school glee club and orchestra are planning to hold a private skating party Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, at Kelley's park.

Amelia Culp and Constance Griffen entertained a group of schoolmates Friday evening at the Culp home, North Main st., honoring Ida Poulton, who leaves soon to make

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Win Navy Plan Backing

Admiral William D. Leahy (left), Chief of Naval Operations, and Charles Edison, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, are shown leaving the White House after a conference with President Roosevelt. They won Presidential backing for a plan which would enable the Navy to cut up obsolete ships, sell the hulks and retain "strategic material." This procedure is forbidden by an act of 1888.

Importance Of Good Brushes Is Emphasized By Peoples Lumber Company

DESCRIBES HOW THEY ARE MADE

Lengthy "History" Back Of The Genuine Product

Paint brushes aren't "just brushes." They are symbols of an activity that extends halfway around the world to bring you a tool with which to apply paint. Few people realize what factors are involved in the manufacture of a brush—what distances the bristle has been brought, for instance.

The whole world now relies almost entirely on China for its bristle supply. Once the bristle—or "cha chang," as it is called by the Chinese—was brought principally from Russia. But that was before the war.

While the world was tangled up in war, it was impossible to obtain the Russian supply and it was necessary to turn to China. After the signing of the Armistice, there was, for awhile, an adequate supply of the Russian product, but then the scenes began to shift.

To give you a closeup of the "situation"—bristles for paint brushes were obtained from the backs of hogs belonging to peasants. These hogs ran practically wild, had to reach their own food and didn't get very fat in the process. The bitterness of the winters they had to face caused their hides to thicken and their bristles to grow long.

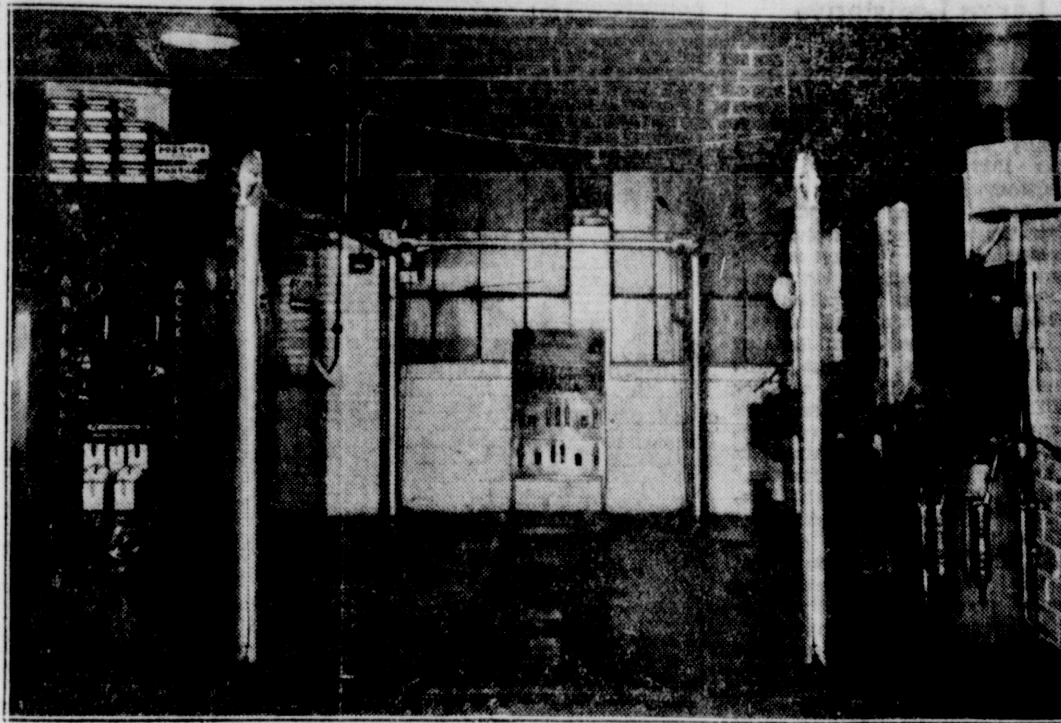

With the creation of the collective farms in Russia, the Soviet cast its eyes on the lean hungry hogs—saw that they were not great producers of pork. As bristle is entirely a by-product, the Soviet did not consider what would happen to their bristles and cross-bred Russian hogs with American and Canadian ones which are long on pork and short on bristle. As a matter of fact, their "hog hair" doesn't even enjoy the title of bristle.

So quite suddenly, the world had to depend entirely upon the bristles of Chinese hogs.

Then began the Chinese scramble. Chinese hogs are similar to the ones they used to have in Russia. And the life of a hog in China these days is about as safe as a turkey's before Thanksgiving. Every year a new crop of 22 million hogs gives up its bristles. It takes a Chinese hog an entire lifetime to grow enough bristles for one good paint brush.

Smith Service Will Keep Your Car Safe This Winter

Proper lubrication of all moving parts of your car is essential for trouble-free, economical driving throughout the coming winter months. Only in this way can the owner of a good car derive full benefit from the easy riding qualities and smooth operation built into the car which contribute so materially to safe driving. At the Smith Garage, Third st. at Vine, you will find one of the most modern lubricating departments in the county. There trained men, with the proper lubricant for each part, and the very latest in lubrication equipment assure you of more miles of carefree driving. So, regardless of whether your car needs a paint job, motor overhaul, Simonizing, or a lubrication job, your needs will be taken care of satisfactorily at The Smith Garage, which employs only factory-trained men and uses only factory-approved tools.

MODERN STOKER WILL ADD SPACE

Iron Fireman Makes It Possible To Have Recreation Room, Clean and Dust-Free

"It's smart to utilize basement space for indoor athletic activity," says the Citizens Ice & Coal Co., local Iron Fireman dealer.

"The modern coal stoker will help you secure and maintain basement recreation space. It enables you to have a dust-free basement. You can seal your coal bin off from the rest of the basement, and let the stoker convey the coal mechanically under the floor to your furnace or boiler. The stoker will also cut your fuel bill, because it burns the economical small sizes of coal. You can apply the saving to the purchase of equipment for your recreation room.

"A basement recreation room makes an ideal setting for parties and midnight suppers. Your guests enjoy themselves thoroughly. And the new living room rugs and furniture are protected!"

"The basement makes a perfect playground for families with youngsters. On rainy afternoons the little Indians whoop it up without disturbing the rest of the house."

BEARINGS NEED ATTENTION NOW?

Let Sinclair Take 'em Off, Clean 'em and Repack For Winter Wear

What do you know, Mr. Motorist, about the bearings of the front wheels of your automobile? Are they ball bearings or roller bearings, and has the grease been changed since you owned the car? The manufacturer of your car recommends that the bearings be removed, cleaned and repacked with fresh lubricant every 5,000 miles—or in spring and fall at the least.

Any Sinclair Service station is prepared to attend to this necessary work, in fact if you will trust your car to their care they will Sinclairize at regular intervals which assures you of safe driving with less repair expense. Sinclairizing costs less than you think. It actually will save you money.

DE SOTO SHOWS SMART STYLING

Stronger Frame, Larger Brakes, Faster Pick-up Featured

The new De Soto for 1938, brilliantly styled and built on a three-inch longer wheelbase than before, is now on display at the Harris garage showrooms, W. State st. The big, new car, featuring major mechanical improvements that include a massive new frame, bigger, more powerful hydraulic brakes, more cushioned riding qualities and a rubber-mounted steering set-up, measures a full 119 inches from wheel center to wheel center with an overall length of 199 inches. The front end follows the distinctive De Soto "horizontal" pattern of former years, but the new styling gives it a clean-cut, sturdy appearance.

"Safety Interior Retained" All the "Safety Interior" features, introduced by De Soto a year ago, have been retained. The instrument panel is smooth with no knobs or controls projecting to catch or tear; the panel is above knee-height; door handles, inside and out, curve inward and are flattened; a large padded roll on the back of the front seat protects back seat passengers and the robe rail is a silk-en cord.

DeSoto's new handbrake lever is of the "pistol grip" variety, located just under the instrument panel. It is at the right of the driver and may be operated by either front seat passengers in cases of emergency.

A new mounting of the steering gear assembly housing to the frame, utilizing rubber similar to that used in De Soto's floating power engine mountings, rubber float body mountings, etc., keeps road shock from drivers' hands, minimizes wheel light or jerk.

DeSoto's strong safety steel body with one-piece seamless steel top, noted for its sound-proof characteristics, has been made even more silent this year. In addition to the effective insulation used before, a new spray-on type of insulation on door panels increases the effectiveness of sound-proofing on the doors by at least 15 per cent.

Among other changes made this year are: Improved, easier-acting air-cooled clutch; Improved transmission that gives easier shifting of gears, without clash; bigger capacity generator to take care of increased use of heaters, radios and the like; new tamper-proof locks on doors and rear deck lids.

TRY 'NOSE TEST' ADVISES PRICE

It's Reliable Indication of Just What Your Clothing Has Come Through

L. C. Price of the Paris Cleaners says, "next time you receive any garment from any cleaner give it the 'nose test'." By that you may know if the garment has been cleaned with a pure solvent.

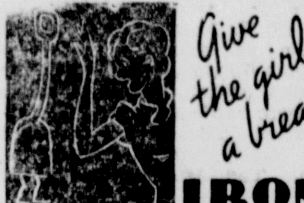

Pure solvent has a slight odor but it's a clean wholesome odor and it is entirely removed before the garment is returned to the owner by the Paris process. Any garment you may receive that has a disagreeable odor even though not strong, has been cleaned in a solvent that has absorbed body greases and other impurities from clothing previously cleaned.

FORDS BACKED BY EXPERIENCE

Knowledge Gained in Building 25 Million Cars Makes Every New One Better

Believe it or not, most Ford cars are bought—not sold. Take the word of the E. L. Grate Motor Co. "They're bought," says Grate's, "because Henry Ford does a better job every year—in and year out."

"Building motor cars is pretty much like everything else. Almost anyone can put gadgets and gingerbread here and there and fool some of the people once in a while.

"But nothing ever takes the places of real experience in building value into a car. The more you make automobiles, the more you're bound to know about them and that's one of the reasons Henry Ford turns out such a swell job.

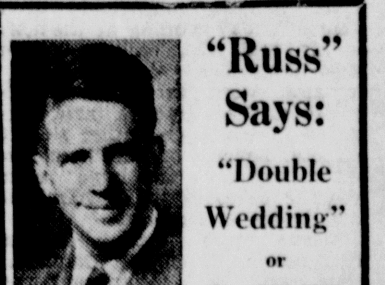

"Of course, he's been at it for years—built something like 25 million of them and if anyone has built any more than that we haven't found him yet.

"And the new Ford is the best of the lot, backed up by Ford experience and Ford resources. We invite you to try one out."

NEAR STAMPEDE ON TAXES SEEN

President's program, all of which originally was presented to the regular 1937 session, than about the business situation.

The scope of the campaign to modify the corporate surplus tax was emphasized by two last minute statements advocating revision—one from Senator Schwelmbach (D-Wash.), an administration stalwart, and the other from Senator Walsh (D-Mass.), a frequent critic.

Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), another loyal Rooseveltian, in a New York address last night urged congress to "reform the capital gains tax and the undistributed profits tax."

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) expressed willingness to modify the tax laws if defects are demonstrated, but he said in a statement that the public utilities and "big business" were "evidently trying to scare congress into carrying out a program for big business instead of carrying out the President's program."

Norris' statement was occasioned not only by the cries for tax revision but by hints from administration leaders that his bill for seven authorities somewhat similar to the TVA should be curtailed to provide for planning agencies only.

Other Subjects Figure In Many other subjects besides the business situation figured in the uncertain outlook for the session. A revolt of still undetermined strength was being organized against the President's foreign policies.

Many Republicans and some Democrats were critical of the fact that Mr. Roosevelt has not invoked the neutrality law in the far eastern conflict, and of his hints of cooperative action against Japan.

Another uncertainty was provided by the position of the anti-lynching bill on the senate calendar. The senate during the summer gave it preferred status for this session as the first order of business after the farm bill.

Since the farm legislation was not ready because of a dispute over the best method of controlling production, senate leaders proposed to call up the government reorganization bill. Friends of the anti-lynching bill, however, said they would try to get their measure to the floor tomorrow.

Theater Attractions

Helen Mack and Joe E. Brown in a scene from "Fit for a King," at the Grand tonight and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thin Man are back again in another comedy hit. This time the famous William Powell and Myrna Loy co-starring team makes its appearance in "Double Wedding," an adaptation of the Ferenc Molnar continental stage success. "Great Love." The new picture shows tonight and Tuesday at the State theater.

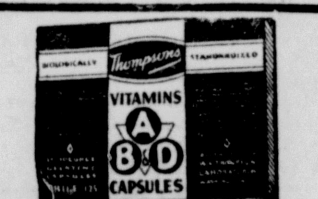

With Powell cast as a penniless devil-may care artist who lives in a trailer, and Miss Loy as the owner of a fashionable New York gown shop, the story describes the efforts of the heroine to prevent her young sister from marrying Powell instead of the man she herself has picked out for her. As may be suspected, in the end Miss Loy falls for the irresistible Powell herself.

An outstanding group of players support the stars in the amusing cross-tangle of romantic strings. Florence Rice plays the younger sister, and John Beal the man Miss Loy has chosen as her potential husband.

Others in important roles include Jessie Ralph, Edgar Kennedy, Sidney Toler, Mary Gordon, Barnett Parker, Katharine Alexander and Priscilla Lawson.

Brown at Grand

Joe E. Brown who was last seen as an ordinary newspaper man, has the title of foreign correspondent in "Fit For a King," his latest production which is featured tonight and Tuesday at the Grand theater. "Beauty's A Charm" by HARRIET HINSDALE

SYNOPSIS

Don Ames, publicity agent for the Bloom-of-Youth Cosmetic Company, comes to Carterton, Louisiana, in search of "Pearl Carter," whom he believes the original of the prize-winning photograph entered in a nationwide beauty contest sponsored by his firm. Young Clyde Dixon, proprietor of the town service station, directs Ames to Rosemead, the dilapidated Carter mansion. There he finds Pearl Carter to be a plump blonde, second wife of ineffectual Wakefield Carter and stepmother of lovely eighteen-year-old Lucy Lee Carter, whose picture had actually won the contest and a thousand dollars in cash.

CHAPTER III

"You mean somebody substituted your picture for hers?" asked Mr. Ames. "I get you. That clears the whole matter up. The letter which came with it was signed 'Pearl Carter,' so we naturally supposed it was the entrant's name. Very simple. He turned to Pearl with a smile of admiration. 'Of course anyone can see this young lady is much too grown-up to be your daughter, Mrs. Carter. Why, you must be almost an age.' Look at her lapping it up, he thought. You can't lay it on too thick for comes like this. They beg for more."

"When do we get the money?" Pearl asked.

"No fooling," he declared with every appearance of complete conviction. Then he turned to Lucy Lee as she stood in the doorway, still gravely regarding him with those velvety dark eyes.

"Lucy Lee," her stepmother said sharply. "You go and fetch Juddy here! I want to talk to him. And don't you come back saying you couldn't find him, either. That trick won't work this time. He has got to be taught a lesson. I'm sick and tired of his silly pranks."

"Yes, ma'am. But Juddy didn't mean any harm. I know he didn't. Please don't make Daddy Carter punish him please."

Lucy Lee slipped away and Pearl monitored to a chair whose frail appearance caused the visitor to sit on it with extreme care. The glance which she turned upon him was sneering and calculating. However susceptible to flattery she might be, there was a core of hardness to Pearl Carter.

"Let's get this straight, Mr. Ames," she said. "As I understand it, Lucy Lee's photograph, no matter how it got into the contest, has won a thousand-dollar prize. When do we get the money?"

He laughed. "Well, I've got to hand it to you, Mrs. Carter. You come right to the point, don't you?"

Millions Are Fighting That Tired Feeling

Some people are always tired, no matter how much sleep they get. Often they are just suffering from constipation. For early fatigue, mental dullness, sleeplessness, sour stomach and its resultant bad breath, mental depression, the aggravation of most skin blemishes, can all be caused by it.

So keep regular. And if you need to assist Nature, use Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This gentle laxative can help bring relief. Extremely important, too, is the mild stimulation it gives the flow of bile from the liver, without the discomfort of drastic, irritating drugs. That's why millions are sold yearly. DO GOLFERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

It means a lot that famous golfers like Gene Sarazen, Helen Hicks, Lawson Little, and Ralph Guldahl, agree in their preference for Camels. They have found that costlier tobaccos do place Camels in a class apart. Listen to Ralph Guldahl, National Open Champion: "I've stuck to Camels for 10 years," he says. "I smoke lots of Camels and I've never known them to jangle my nerves. That partly explains why so many golfers are loyal Camel smokers."

And not only golfers, but people in all walks of life—millions of Americans—prefer Camels day after day after day, making them the LARGEST-SELLING cigarette in America...or the world.

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher: "When the rush gets me 'worn out'—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

SPORTS WRITER Stuart Cameron: "It's mighty impressive how champions agree on Camels. I'm glad as any athlete that Camels don't get on my nerves."

WATCHMAKER I. C. Gorkun says: "Camels? Say, every Camel I smoke seems to be milder and tastier than the last one. Camels don't leave me feeling 'smoked out.'"

DRAFTSMAN B. T. Miller: "I often feel used up during long hours before the drawing board. Camels give me a 'lift' when I feel I need it. They never tire my taste."

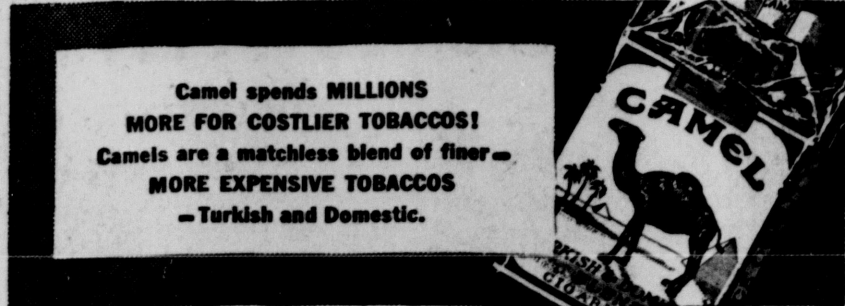

BANK TELLER John McMahon: "I'm handling money by the thousands. Jangled nerves just don't fit in that kind of work. So it's Camels for me."

AUTO MECHANIC Al Patterson: "In the garage business you have to catch your meals on the run. Camels seem to smooth the way for good digestion."

CHIEF SIGNALMAN of N. Y. Central R. R., John Geraghty: "Speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. Do Camels jangle my nerves? No sir!"

PITT, FORDHAM ARE RATED AS BEST IN EAST

Alabama Stands Out In South; California Is Tops Out West

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The fortunes of war, abetted by the rigors of modern football schedule-making, had conspired to reduce the list of major undefeated teams to 12 today without affecting the unbeaten status of the main contenders for the mythical national championship.

Pitt and Fordham in the east, Alabama in the south and California in the far west still were riding high with the end of an exciting and unpredictable season in sight. With all due respect to the rest of the undefeated field, it seems that if a generally recognized national titleholder is to come at all it will have to come from among these four.

Pitt and Fordham stand out in the field of seven unbeaten eastern teams because of their representative schedules. None of the others—Yale, Dartmouth, Villanova, Holy Cross or Lafayette—has been called upon to tackle such opposition as Pitt and Fordham have overpowered. The same must be said for Santa Clara, Colorado and Montana, whose perfect records entitle them to give California at least a mild argument in the far west. Alabama, although its opposition has been almost entirely southern, stands alone as the south's lone unbeaten major eleven.

A definite falling off is noted in the quality of this week's program as many top-flight outfits rest before climax engagements on Thanksgiving day or meet second-rate opposition in preparation for important tests on Nov. 27.

High-spots of the program include:

East
Pitt, whose thrilling fourth-period rally led by Marshall Goldberg and Dick Cassano ruined Nebraska's unbeaten record, 13-7, can afford to take no chances with Penn State's pass-minded Nittany Lions, who nosed out Maryland in the closing minutes of play, 21-14. Fordham, idle last week, plays its annual game with St. Mary's Gais, who lost 7-0 to Santa Clara yesterday.

Yale, with a tie with Dartmouth the only blot, matches its undefeated record against Harvard's powerful Crimson in the east's top-ranking game from the standpoint of tradition. Yale whipped Princeton, 20-0, Saturday while Harvard, had trouble spilling Davidson, 15-0.

Dartmouth, which had come from behind to tie Cornell's formidable outfit, 6-6, in the rain and mud at Hanover, closes its campaign against Columbia's Lions, who held Syracuse to a 6-6 draw. Boston college, with a 13-0 verdict over Kentucky to its credit, takes on Boston university. Army prepares for the Navy game two weeks hence in a "breather with" with St. John's or Annapolis.

Middlewest
The curtain falls on Big Ten competition but the big game of the week will send Northwestern against the non-conference Irish of Notre Dame. The Irish handed Army a 7-0 beating before 78,000 in the Yankee stadium and might have won by three or four touchdowns except for miserable playing conditions. Northwestern's 7-0 defeat by Minnesota will leave the Wildcats definitely under-dogs in the game with Notre Dame.

Minnesota needs only to get past Wisconsin, which played a 7-7 draw with Purdue, to clinch the Big Ten title. If the Gophers falter, Ohio State, or as an outside possibility, Indiana, might slip into the crown. Ohio State, piling up a 19-0 margin over Illinois, tackles Michigan's Wolverines, who spilled Penn, 7-0. Indiana, thankful to escape with a 3-0 victory over Iowa, meets Purdue. Illinois and Chicago square off in the remaining conference game.

Kansas stunning 7-0 beating by Kansas State left Nebraska with a clear path to the Big Six title if the Huskers can whip Kansas State on Nov. 27. They play Iowa this week. Oklahoma, which wound up its conference schedule with a 7-0 victory over Missouri, meets Oklahoma A. and M.

South
This is "Armistice week" in the Southeastern conference where Alabama's 7-0 victory over Georgia Tech, coupled with Auburn's 9-7 defeat by Louisiana State, left the Crimson Tide certain to clinch the conference championship if it can get past Vanderbilt on Thanksgiving day. Vanderbilt, disposing of Tennessee, 13-7, now is in a second place tie with Louisiana State with Auburn just behind.

North Carolina's upset triumph over previously unbeaten Duke, 14-6, left the Southern conference chase a three-corner battle among North Carolina, Clemson and Maryland.

Southwest
Rice's 6-6 draw with Texas A. and M. left the Owls still sitting safely in first place but it is unlikely the championship will be decided until the closing games on December 4. This week the Owls must tackle formidable Texas Christian, 14-0 victors over Texas. Baylor, losing its second successive conference game

PITT WINS OVER NEBRASKA

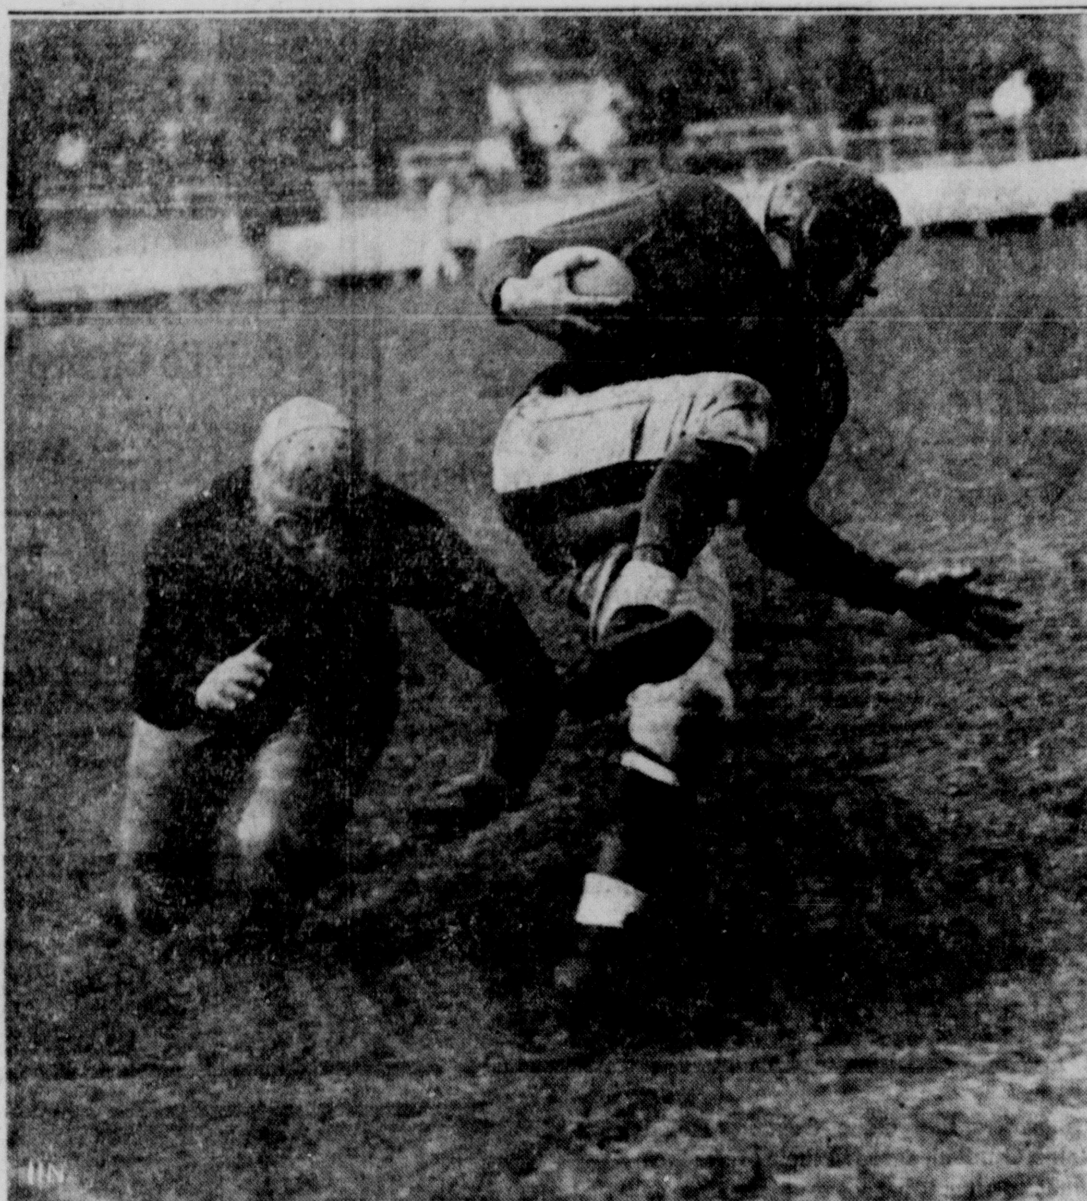

The Pittsburgh Panthers of football broke loose in a last period surge that lifted 71,000 spectators off their seats to blast surprising Nebraska from the ranks of the undefeated, 13 to 7, at Pittsburg.

Big Gallery Is Weakness Of "Mysterious" Montague

Monty Can't Take It When Fans Swarm In Front Of Him And Shout While He Tees Off

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Having observed with expert eye the formal debut of John Montague in big league golf, it is possible to reveal for the first time several glaring weaknesses in the game of the big muscle man from California.

In the first place, Montague is prone to slice badly off the tee if, at the top of his swing, some admirer at his elbow hollers: "Whack it Monty, old boy!"

His approach shots, while in a 13-7 upset by Southern Methodist, plays Loyola of Los Angeles.

Far West

The championship of the Pacific Coast conference will be settled at Palo Alto when California battles Stanford, California, 25-0, victor over Oregon, must win or tie to clinch the crown. Stanford, which routed Washington State, 23-0, must win to tie the Golden Bears in the final standing. Washington, which stopped U. C. L. A., 26-0, winds up against Oregon, and Oregon State, after a 12-12 draw with Southern California, meets Washington State.

Rocky Mountain

Colorado's 35-6 rout of Colorado college and Denver's 21-6 conquest of Wyoming left the championship to be settled by the Colorado-Denver game on Thanksgiving day. A victory for Denver would leave the two teams tied in the final standings.

sound in some respects, are inclined to wander off the line if there are over 3,000 persons between him and the flag, all of them shouting: "Down in front before I bust you one!"

His putting, too, is nothing to rave about when he can't see the hole, and he is inclined to quit and concede a hole when his ball gets stolen off the green.

All this new data on golf's "mystery man" was dug up during an hilarious three hours yesterday at the Fresh Meadow Country club whose directors now, no doubt, know better than ever again to throw their manicured pasture open to the general public at a dollar a throw.

The simple facts are that Montague and a comely partner, Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg, tried to play an 18-hole exhibition match against the world's foremost "Babe" (Ruth and Diddrikson). They managed to do eight and a fraction holes without being killed, and they were lucky, at that.

The two babes won, semi-officially, two-up. The 10,000 spectators, unhampered by any gallery police, carried off the real honors when they finally converged on the ninth green and pecked the balls. Montague came out of it comparatively calm. He hadn't shot any golf to speak of, but neither had he been seriously hurt. Babe Ruth, the sleeves of his white shirt torn and tattered, reached the clubhouse

BADGERS MAY GIVE GOPHERS TOUGH BATTLE

Wisconsin Has Enjoyed Best Season In Several Years

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Wisconsin's Badgers may bow before Minnesota's Big Ten title charge next Saturday, but win or lose, the Badgers already have made their season a successful one.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, serving notice that he is well on the way toward leading the Badgers out of the Western conference grid wilderness, has a team which has improved steadily and which may give the Gophers, out after a fifth straight conference win, a busy afternoon.

The Badgers whipped South Dakota, Marquette, Chicago and Iowa, lost to Pittsburgh and Northwestern, and then came up with a 7-7 tie with Purdue last Saturday. Defensively, Wisconsin appears at a peak.

Minnesota had trouble with Northwestern, finally downing the Stubbhorn Wildcats 7 to 0 on Harold Van Every's pass to Ray King. The Wildcats will be up against more trouble this week, encountering Notre Dame's steadily improving machine.

Indiana and Purdue renew their old annual argument at Bloomington and the scrappy Hoosiers, who defeated Iowa 3 to 0, will be favored. George Miller, Hoosier center, booted the field goal which turned back an Iowa team that had outplayed the Hoosiers most of the afternoon. Iowa goes outside the conference and will be underdog in its battle with the strong Nebraska eleven, which lost to Pitt 13 to 7.

Ohio State, which flattened Illinois 19 to 0, goes against Michigan in what may be the day's scrappiest affair. Michigan won its fourth straight game by defeating Penn 7 to 0 and a victory for the Wolverines over Ohio State would give Michigan its finest record since its title campaign of 1933.

Chicago, which won its first start of the season at the expense of Beloit college, 26 to 9, goes to Champaign to play Illinois and the Maroons will be battling to escape a shutout in Big Ten competition for the year.

BOWLING NEWS

Salem teams divided honors with Akron bowlers in special matches at the Grate alleys Saturday night. The Salem News five defeated the Akron Sandwich Shop Keglers, 2641 to 2544, with Dal DeRhodes turning in high score of 608.

The Grate Recreation quintet dropped its match with the Akron Ace Mitchells by 120 pins, the scores being 2624 to 2504.

A poor start in the first game sent the Salem Eagles down to defeat in an inter-city match against New Philadelphia Eagles at New Philly Saturday. The match score was 2573 to 2662.

The Salem quintet rolled 796 to New Philly's 928 in the first game and was unable to make up the big deficit while winning the second and third heats.

Bob Tubbs had the best single game score of the match, a 255 in the third game. His 595 series was also high.

LISBON LOSES TO WELLSVILLE

Bengals Crush County Seat Team To Stay In Title Race

WELLSVILLE, Nov. 15.—Keeping in the race for Columbiana county scholastic gridiron honors, Wellsville High school's Bengals crushed Lisbon, 25 to 0, here Saturday.

The Bengals stand a chance of sharing the county title if they defeat East Liverpool's Potters in their annual contest Thanksgiving day. The Potters have defeated Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon. Wellsville has lost one county game, this to Salem.

Shepherd led the Bengals to their win over the county seat aggregation, scoring three of four touchdowns. Gitschler intercepted a Lisbon pass and raced 38 yards for the other Wellsville score.

Lisbon threatened to tally in the third quarter, but its touchdown march was halted on the Wellsville 37-yard line.

MORE POWERFUL SHARON ELEVEN WHIPS QUAKERS

Western Pennsylvanians Make Salem Easy Grid Victim

Coach Carl Schroeder's Salem High school Quakers looked back on their worst defeat of the season today as they started on their last eight days of practice.

The Quakers suffered a 42 to 0 setback over at Sharon, Pa., last Saturday, falling before Coach David B. Stewart's unbeaten and more powerful Sharon High school Tigers.

Attempts to forget this stinging defeat will be made by the Quakers during the coming week and a half while they are preparing for their final game of the 1937 season against Alliance at Reilly stadium, Thanksgiving day afternoon.

Only one Salem team in the last 15 years was unfortunate enough to suffer a worse defeat than the one the Quakers were handed at Sharon last Saturday. This was the team of last year which succumbed to Alliance, 50 to 0, in its final game of the season.

Showing its strength from the start, Sharon was entirely too powerful for the Quakers. Coach Stewart, who taught Schroeder when he was grid mentor at Massillon High school some years ago, did not have his full strength available for the game, but regardless, the Tigers outplayed the Quakers in every department.

Right Halfback Lucas and Guard Molnar were kept out of the Sharon lineup all during the game because of injuries.

Sharon consistently ripped wide holes in the Salem line and skinned the Salem ends with ease. In plain and simple language, the Tigers had too much power. It was like Ohio State against Mount Union or Canton McKinley against Leotonia.

What honors are not due Olexa for a splendid performance against terrific odds are due Mike (Scrap Iron) Cerbi, the Quakers' plucky center, who played the entire game with a fractured thumb on his left hand.

Olexa played a brilliant game despite Sharon's one-sided triumph. He was rushed hard on passes, but still managed to get off a number of accurate and well-thrown heaves, and he was mobbed by Sharon linemen on rushing plays, but still battled his way to most of the Quaker gains.

Max Lutsch, hard-hitting fullback who was replaced in the starting lineup by Gilbert Everhart, also comes in for some share of losing honors for the manner in which he plowed Sharon's line in the third and fourth quarters. Stuart was likewise due for credit for clever signal calling which resulted in the Quakers surprising Sharon in the second half with a variety of plays.

The closest the Quakers came to the Sharon goal line was late in the second quarter when they reached the Sharon 21-yard stripe after a shovel pass from Olexa to Bill Schaeffer and a lateral pass to Lutsch made 29 yards.

This threat was halted when Cyellbar intercepted Olexa's pass just before the half ended.

The Quakers' longest offensive drive came in the third period when they moved the ball from the Salem 21-yard line to the Sharon 35 before a series of passes were incomplete and the Tigers took the ball on downs.

With Henry Syslo, captain and smooth-running fullback, Bob Koran and Harold Mathews leading the attack, Sharon scored three times in the second quarter, once in the second and twice in the fourth. The Tigers converted all of their extra points by place kicks.

Syslo was the cleverest of the Sharon backs, although Mathews, a Negro, gave the Quakers plenty of trouble.

Syslo reeled off the two longest runs of the game, dashing 63 and 58 yards for touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

In addition to his two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, Syslo tallied twice in the first period. He went over from the two-yard line for the first score after Sharon had advanced the ball from the Salem 32 where a Quaker punt was blocked.

Syslo's other score in the first quarter was on a plunge from the one-yard stripe where the ball had been placed after a 58-yard sustained drive.

Koran also scored in the opening quarter, on a pass from Mathews. The toss was made from the Salem 21-yard line and Koran reeled the ball on the Salem 13. He raced to the goal line unmolested as the entire Salem team watched at a stand-still. The head linesmen's horn had blown while the play was in motion, signaling an offside on Salem, and the Quakers let up their defense when the horn sounded.

Mathews accounted for Sharon's touchdown in the second quarter, taking a short pass over the line of scrimmage from Waldo and running five yards to the goal. A sustained drive of 68-yards brought the ball to the Salem 12-yard line from where Waldo passed to Mathews for the touchdown.

Talk It Over Before Match

This was about the only peace that John Montague (left) of Hollywood golf resort and Babe Ruth were offered at the Fresh Meadow Country club, Long Island, yesterday. When "Mysterious Monty" and Babe took to the course they were mobbed by 10,000 fans that they were forced to end their charity match after playing only eight holes.

DEATHS

ULRICH LUTZENBERGER

Ulrich Lutzenberger, 77, died at 6:30 a. m. today at his home, four miles north of Salem following a cerebral hemorrhage.

Born July 5, 1860, in Bavaria, Germany, the son of George and Ursula Lutzenberger, he came to the United States 51 years ago. He was married here to Sophia Schude in 1888. Mr. Lutzenberger was associated with the Wirsching Organ company in Salem for about 30 years. He was a member of the Moose lodge. He had lived in the home where he died for the last 40 years.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James P. Barley, with whom he made his home; a son, Carl, of Patmos; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Stark Memorial in charge of Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at Stark's Tuesday evening.

MRS. C. C. HALE RITES

The funeral service for Mrs. Helene A. Hale, 39, of 1234 East Pershing st., who died at her home at 11 a. m. Saturday of complications following a week's illness, will be held at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh funeral home in charge of Rev. C. F. Evans of the Christian church.

Burial will be in Knowlwood cemetery in Cleveland. Friends may call at the Arbaugh funeral home tonight.

Mrs. Hale was born Jan. 16, 1898. She had lived in Salem for six years, coming here from Youngstown.

She is survived by her husband, Cecil C. Hale; her father, Henry Papier of St. Petersburg, Fla.; a son, Robert C. Hale at home; and a brother, Carl Papier of St. Petersburg.

EMIL BURLINGAME

SEBRING, Nov. 15.—Emil Burlingame, 51, an employee of the Limoges pottery here, died suddenly Saturday night at his home of a heart attack.

Born at Clarkson, Columbiana county, he had resided here and in Lisbon for the past 30 years. He was a jiggerman and a member of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Besides his wife, Susie, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Violet Bathers of Sebring, and two sisters. The funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home in charge of Rev. Doble of the Nazarene church. Burial will be in Sebring cemetery.

ASKS REMOVAL OF TAX WRONGS

President Submits Four-Point Program To Congress

by new taxes should the cost exceed the regular budget.

In that connection, he said: "I hope and believe that the supreme court will not again deny to farmers the protection which it now accords to others."

2. "Flexible" machinery to provide minimum wages, maximum hours and banishment of child labor.

3. Reorganization of government in the interest of "efficiency," but with a warning against trying to make "major savings" in this way.

4. Regional planning boards to "avoid waste and to give the nation its money's worth" from government expenditures.

"What these four subjects promise in continued and increased purchasing power—what they promise in greater efficiency in the use of government funds," Mr. Roosevelt said, "are intelligent foundations for the other plans for the encouragement of industrial expansion with government help."

"If private enterprise does not respond, government must take up the slack."

Wins Scholarship

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 15.—Lawrence Arthur Minnich of Lorain, O., a Princeton sophomore, held a $1,000 annual income scholarship from the university today, one of nine awarded to students attaining a first general scholastic group average.
